Building a Dental Home Telementoring Network for Children with Special Health Care Needs

Dr. Jeffrey Karp, D.M.D., M.S., University of Minnesota

Oral health is the second most common unmet health need for children with special health care needs (CSHCNs). The system of oral health care for CSHCNs in Minnesota is complicated, disorganized, and insufficient to provide a dental home for every Minnesota child with special health care needs. This presentation identifies the issues and challenges impacting this goal and describes a project that aims to build a dental home network across Minnesota for children with special health care needs. Dr. Karp will discuss barriers to a dental home for children with special health care needs, identify strategies to improve access to care for these children in their home communities, review Project ECHO and how this telementoring platform will support the oral health workforce and how it aims to support a culture of oral health in Minnesota.

Healthy Teeth. Healthy Baby. Partnering to Promote Dental Health in Minnesota's Infants & Toddlers

2:15-2:45 pm

Prasida Khanal, Dentist, State Dental Director, Minnesota Department of Health

“Healthy Teeth. Healthy Baby.” is a community-centered initiative based on the notion that prevention of early dental disease starts prenatally and is most effective in the first three years of life. The initiative provides anticipatory guidance and education to pregnant women, expecting/new parents and caregivers of underserved children up to the age of 3. The campaign is geared toward communities of color and recent immigrants, and it is part of the larger statewide Early Dental Disease Prevention Initiative (EDDPI), which legislators called for in 2015.
